

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – February 13, 2009 – CAPE CORAL, FL

Starlight Productions wraps their final phase of shooting the Sci-Fi Thriller, "Light," this week, completing nearly four months of principal photography. The final shoot will be Monday, February 19, 2009 at 2:30pm at Ragazzi Pizza, 159 Hancock Bridge Parkway, Cape Coral.

"Light" is set in the not too distant future and centers around a Lucas, boy born with hypopigmentation (Oculocutaneous albinism) who discovers that along with his rare appearance, his birth also granted him developing "super powers" that aid him and his genius best friend, Jake in navigating the often troubled waters of high school. Unfortunately, as with many gifts, there are those who desire to exploit Lucas' unique situation for their own nefarious ends. Caught in the middle is Jake & Lucas' science teacher, Mr. Gunther, a former defense contractor, who has a unique understanding of the value of Lucas' powers.

"Light" is written and directed by local actor-writer Marty Wisher and stars Christian Kilian, Danny Rawley, Keegan Shayne and long-time character actor Rick Michaels. The Director of Photography is Timothy J. Gunderman. In creating the film, Starlight Productions committed to utilizing wholly local talent, from the actors and actresses, all the way through post-production, special effects and crew. Many of the talent pool was drawn from the local chapter of United Film & Television Artists (UFTA)

The work on "Light" has also caught national attention, due to a growing problem of mistreatment of people with hypopigmentation in Third World countries.

Starlight Productions is a production company that provides live and staged entertainment, celebrity impersonators, science fiction characters, as well as delivering full-service film and video production services, from scripting to shooting, editing, and post-production, complete with special effects, 3D modeling and animations.
